If you've missed our previous screenings, now's your chance. Please join us for a free "pre-release" screening of this warm, funny, and moving one-hour film, which follows the journey of four students from Ballou, Anacostia, Roosevelt, and Wilson Senior High Schools, who are given the chance to spend a summer in Beijing studying Chinese language and culture. After the screening, we'll use the film as a tool for discussing the present state and future possibilities for global education and language learning in DC schools. If you haven't seen the trailer yet, you can see it here: www.beyondthewalldoc.com.
